

GREENFIELD A.T.A.'S NEW PREMIER

In First Message New Govern't Head Says "Will Do My Best For Farmers & All Classes."

Mr H. Greenfield, or to speak more correctly—the Hon. Herbert Greenfield of Westlock—is the unanimous choice of the farmers as premier-elect of Alberta.

This decision was reached at a convention of the newly elected provincial members at Calgary on Wednesday afternoon last and Mr J. R. Love wired The Star that the choice was popular as well as unanimous.

Cheers were given when the decision was arrived at and Mr Greenfield responding in a voice that showed he was palpably moved said, "I will do my best for the farmers and all classes of the province of Alberta."

The following official announcement was made by the press committee at the conclusion of the session:—"Herbert Greenfield of Westlock was unanimously elected leader of the U.F.A. group in the legislature after the fullest discussion of the members in conference."

Those present discussed the platform of the association which was adopted by a special committee appointed by the U.F.A. at the last convention and prepared and published just before the election. Although the program was merely suggestive, the members reported that it was adopted with no material change in all of the ridings and formed the basis of their election.

The programme provides for proportional representation, new highway commission, abolition of patronage, progressive legislation in health and education, a mild declaration in favor of the group idea, and other measures favored in the past by farmers. One of the clauses refers to the encouragement of co-operating marketing, and another calls for bonedry prohibition.

One clause which was most favorably commented upon by members was being the most favorably received during the campaign refers to the freedom of members, and provides that no government shall be called upon to resign when it meets defeat in the house except upon a direct want of confidence vote, specifically stated.

"Mickey" is a blending of every human emotion. Yet the story with its comedy, its romance and its thrills is of the simplest sort; and simplicity is always great, especially if it has so many enjoyable things about it. Mickey is a lovable, harum-scarum little tomboy, who is always getting into scrapes that make you laugh and cry. From the village setting to the splendid home of Mickey's aunt, there the air of reality is ever present, with not a dull moment in all the long seven reels.

Even the cat and dog give real startling evidences of being highly-salaried actors, and as for Minnie Ha-ha, the squaw, she alone is worth the price of admission; but it's Mickey that strangles you with laughter and grips you with her hair-raising stunts.

Mickey has her share of sorrows and adventures, too—plenty of the biggest "punch" scenes that have ever been screened. But one does not have to wait until the last reel before the excitement begins because interest is aroused as soon as Mickey is known, and it continues right up to the very minute we say good-bye to her at the end of one of the finest features ever filmed.

BRINGING HARVESTERS FROM THE WEST

The old order changeth, and although in years gone by it was customary for our farmers to obtain their extrahelp in the harvest fields from the eastern provinces, this year the unemployment problem is so acute on the west coast that arrangements have been made to bring some of these men to the prairies to assist in garnering the harvest. To this end the B.C. government has been carrying on negotiations in the matter of rail fares with the transportation companies with the result that excursion rates of $10 per head will be available from Vancouver to Calgary or Edmonton, while from Victoria $11 will be the rate charged. This rate is set for both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National roads.

SPLENDID BUFFALO NOW ON VIEW IN DEPOT SHOW CASE

After quite a lengthy wait, the mounted specimen of the "Bison Americanus" (or as it is commonly known "Buffalo") which for possibly some ten or more years roamed the wild demesne of our National Park, has arrived from the taxidermists in the east and is on view in the show case at the depot which has heretofore contained specimens of our agricultural products. The animal is a truly noble specimen of its species and is, we understand, of a value approaching the $2,000 mark. The show case has been fixed up by the Council in accordance with instructions from Ottawa and is figured to be "moth, mouse and moisture proof."

THE GRIM REAPER

MORRIS F. TEETER

We are sorry to have to chronicle the passing away of little Morris F. 2-year-old son of Mr and Mrs Price Teeter, which occurred on Tuesday last after only a short illness from diphtheria. The funeral was held on Wednesday, the Rev. N. F. Priestley officiating both at the house and at the graveside.

FIFTH MONTHLY PROV. CROP REPORT PROMISES FAVORABLE

General rain has visited most sections of the province during a recent period. A number of districts in the south have benefited by a plentiful supply. This rain was too late to be of any great assistance to the general crops throughout the province.

The southern and south-eastern areas will have a light short crop, although there are certain sections which have been visited by frequent local showers and good crops should be harvested in those areas. This is particularly the case near the southern boundary of the province.

North and east of Edmonton the reports are especially good. There has been plenty of rain and the season has been particularly favorable. As far as can be determined at the present time the prospects are that the crop will be heavy all through the north.

One good feature of the situation in the south is that the rye crop has withstood the drought and will make a good general yield.

BOYER SMITHY NOW IN THE HANDS OF SCOTCH MECHANIC

Owing to his farm interests occupying practically his full time, Mr M. A. Boyer has now sold his blacksmith shop which he has run so successfully for several years on Third avenue.

The new-comer to our midst is Mr D. Blain who comes from the town of Loughheed highly recommended as a first-class smith and a specialist in several classes of horse-shoeing.

Mr Blain, whom we bid welcome, is of scotch descent, and has been some ten years in this western country. We understand that he intends bringing his wife and two daughters to reside in town as soon as he is settled.

DOMINION CEREALIST ADVISES WHEN GRAIN BEST READY TO CUT

When should a grain crop be cut? Mr P. R. Cowan, Dominion cerealist, says that to many this is perhaps the most perplexing problem of the farmer. No hard and fast rule can be laid down for all grains or all districts; many factors enter to make this a vexing question. From the time a crop may be cut to the time it must be cut is a period of from 6 to 10 days; this therefore allows plenty of latitude as to when to cut.

The general practice of cutting grain on the immature side is followed in the west, whereas in the east the grain is usually allowed to stand until fully ripe or very nearly so. What may be cut when more immature than other crops; wheat cut when the kernels are in the milk will mature in the stock to a certain extent, but it is not advisable under average conditions to cut as early as this. Under western conditions it is usually always best to cut when the grain is in the soft to medium dough stage. The field will be yellow in general appearance, although the color of the straw is not an infallible guide for cutting.

The rules covering a wheat crop may also be applied to barley, for in no case should barley be allowed to fully ripen before cutting as the heads are liable to be brittle and break off causing a considerable loss to the returns. Oats may be left in the field for a rather longer period although it is quite safe to start cutting when the heads are in the soft dough.

It will thus be seen that there is considerable leeway as to when to cut. If weather conditions are unfavorable when the crop appears to be ready, it is alright to wait a day or so, but the above is a fair indication of when it is best to start cutting if the conditions fit in.

LOCAL NOTES

Miss G. Nightingale of Chauvin has now joined the staff of The Star.

Mr F. Stott is entertaining a guest these days in the person of her mother, Mrs Trewartha from Calgary.

Mr and Mrs G. L. Huhson had a splendid trip yesterday when they toured to Vermilion on a visit to Mrs Hudson's mother, Mrs Pilkie.

On Sunday last a number of town people motored to Bean's lake and held a most enjoyable, much of the pleasure being due to the kind hospitality of Mr and Mrs Bean who had all possible to make the day one that will be long remembered by the visitors.

WHEAT CUTTING STARTS

What is probably the first wheat cutting in this was started yesterday on the farm of Mr Lew. Carl on 18-43-54. This is on lightish land and was sown fairly early. It looks to be a fair average yield, too, and is of a good color.

GREENSHIELDS GOSSIP

Despite the showery weather on Wednesday, a goodly number spent an enjoyable time at the annual picnic which was held at Mrs. Paterson's. There was lots of fun and lots to eat, and the gathering was a success.

Mrs Cheetham and family of the Greenshields store are out at Normand's lake enjoying a holiday.

The Misses Daisy and Nan Kennedy are spending a few weeks as the guests of Mrs D. A. McDougall.

Mr Harold McDougall, of the Jarro Auto Supply motored over last week and took in the garden party at the home of Mrs J. A. Paterson.

NEW MARKET FOR ALBERTA BUTTER.

The announcement that New York wants a million pounds of Alberta butter will be good news to the farmers of this province. In fact the farmers will find the news as good as New Yorkers will find the butter, says the Edmonton Bulletin. That is one kind of farm produce that Alberta has more of than it knows what to do with, and production at the present is only at the minimum. When they get it in earnest, under the impetus of a steady export market at satisfactory prices, there is hardly a limit to the amount the creameries and farm dairies of Alberta can turn out. If New York will supply the market, Alberta can supply the butter in any quantity that is required.

"Dad" Simmerman has entered upon his new duties as town scavenger—and is keeping busy, too!

PAYS GREAT TRIBUTE TO LATE PREMIER

No public man could have been given higher tribute than Hon. Charles Stewart in the failure of his opponents to criticize his administration. It was noticeable throughout the campaign that the premier had the confidence of his farmer opponents especially. The bulk of them spoke of him as a capable, honest and upright man, and quite often appealed to the public for support by intimating that even if the government was defeated Mr Stewart would remain at the head of affairs. It is doubtful whether any prime minister was ever so strongly regarded personally by his opponents. Despite his defeat Mr Stewart remains today as one of the strongest personalities in our public life, and he was simply overwhelmed by a new movement that is spreading over the whole country.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Elmer W. (Baby) Jones, who died July 31st 1921, aged 5½ months.

Shed on sweet buds and take thy rest, God called thee home; He knoweth best.

In loving memory of Morris Fred Teeter, born October 13th, 1919; died July 27th, 1921.

The little cot is empty now;
The little clothes laid by;
A father's joy, a mother's hope
In death's cold arms doth lie.
God needed one more angel child
To join his shining band,
And so He bent with loving smile
And clasped our darling's hand.

THE EXAMINER'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

(Friday, July 29th)

CATTLE—There is a continuation of the decline in cattle prices in Calgary, notwithstanding very light receipts, and all beef from 50c to 75c lower. Choice steers $4.00@5.50; good $4.00@4.50; medium $3.60@3.75; common, $2.60@3.25. Choice cows, $3.50@4.00; good, $3.00@3.50; medium, $2.50@3.00; common, $2.00@2.50. Canners, $1.50@2.00. No bulls offered to make a market; top probably 2.50. All calves lower with best, $4.50@5.85; common, $3.60@4.50. Stocker steers, $2.25@2.50; feeders, $2.50@3.00; stocker heifers lower $2.00@2.50; cows, $1.80@2.50.

Few steers have been selling at over $5.00 at Edmonton, though extra-ones would bring more. Top steers are quoted $5.25@5.60; good $4.50@5.25; medium, $3.50@4.50; common, $3.00@3.50. Choice cows, 4.00@4.50; good $3.50@4.00; medium, $2.50@3.00; common, $2.00@2.50. Very few bulls offered; best around 2.50 down to $1. Calves lower, with tops $4.50@5.50; common, $4.00@5.00. Stockers and feeders not in much demand, with good deer $2.00@3.00; stockers $2.00@2.50; stocker heifers, $2.00@2.50.

HOGS—Calgary market steady all week, with larger receipts and sales $14.75@15.00. Overnight receipts sold today at $15.

Hogs have been advancing at Edmonton, with sales $13.50@14.00. The week have got up to $14.00@14.50.

SHEEP—Very few butcher sheep sold during the week at Calgary; a few lambs at $8.00@9.00; with wethers probably at $6.50@7.50.

Lower prices on sheep at Edmonton, with quite a number on hand; lambs, $7.50@8.50; wethers, $6.00@7.00; ewes, $4.00@5.00.

GRAIN—Material improvement has been shown in crops throughout southern and central Alberta during the past week, and although it is too early to get optimistic, indications are certain by much better. Northern crop and northern central district are good to splendid. Markets have been fairly steady, but fluctuations are natural at this critical time.

PRODUCE—Eggs reduced to $9.50@9.60, and likely to go lower; poor quality of receipts result in accumulation of No 2 eggs at too high price, which market cannot absorb and unfit for storage. Creamery butter slightly weaker in tone, though cartons somewhat better; fancy up to 30c No 1 20c@25c; No 2 16c@19c; No 3 11c@15c. Poultry receipts larger and market weaker on the broilers, now 23c@25c; hens, 16c@18c; roosters, 10c@15c; market one for decline; some dealers now grading fowl into three and four-pound classes. New crop potatoes not moving in quantity as yet.

Dairy butter reported better in Edmonton with prices up to 20c. Creamery butter in cartons 38c@40c; carlot shipments being

Lake North of Wainwright Gives Promise of Valuable Mineral Deposit; Drilling Started.

A discovery of soda carbonate, and now has a drilling outfit has just been revealed by the finding of leases carrying the mineral rights on land at Baxter lake, ten miles north-east of town on Monday last in Edmonton.

The discovery was made last winter by Mr J. G. Morton, the well-known farmer, and upon a satisfactory analysis being made of the material he sent for Mr J. O. Williams, a prospecting geologist of that city, who spent some ten days in June investigating this new find and obtaining proper samples of salts and liquids.

It now develops that a much greater density of carbonate lays just below the bottom of the lake and a syndicate of Calgary people has been formed to further investigate these claims.

Mr Williams arrived here last week to go further into the matter.

CONWAY TEARLE PROVES A REAL "SOCIETY SNOB."

In "Society Snobs" the latest Selznick production, which will be showing on Monday and Tuesday next at the Elite theatre, Mr Conway Tearle has a vehicle that is peculiarly adapted to his person. In the showing up of the dangers which lurk in the ambitions of title-hunting, snobbish mammas he is at his best. It is hard to imagine an actor playing the part of a waiter in a tensely dramatic picture, but he invests the part with a dignity and sureness of himself that carries it over to the audience in capital style. The heart interest is gripping and the love element strong.

WEDDING BELLS

ELINQUIST-SAMPSON

Grace Methodist church was the scene of a quiet little wedding on Saturday afternoon last when Mr Albert Elinquist, of Rosyth, and Miss Myrtle Sampson, of Anisk, were united in marriage by Rev N. F. Priestley. The happy couple were attended by Mr and Mrs Gotthard Elinquist and a number of other friends.

CLIFFORD-McCLAY

On Wednesday last, Rev N. F. Priestley solemnized the nuptials of Mr Arthur James Clifford and Miss Gertrude Pearl McClay, both of Wainwright. The contracting parties were unattended.

DISPOSITION OF DEAD ANIMALS IS SERIOUS AFFAIR

Often when animals die on the farm no disposal is made of the carcass other than to drag them into a field or nearby woods where they are left on the surface of the ground to decompose or to be eaten by crows, dogs and other scavengers; of animals which will feed on carrion.

Dead animals on the farm should be buried deep enough to prevent them from being dug up again, or they should be burned. To burn large carcasses like those of dead horses and cattle is difficult and laborious, and requires a large quantity of fuel. In most instances it is more economical to bury them. All animals which have died of infectious diseases and are buried should be covered with a heavy layer of lime before the graves are closed.

made east and west. Cream receipts holding up well, but peak is believed to have been reached in butter-making. Eggs quoted $8.50@9.00, with receipts fairly heavy with quality low. Poultry prices are weakening with springers at 20c; fowl 17c; roosters 12c and turkeys, 25c weaker market may be looked for later on.

Mr F. S. Kately, from Chauvin, is now installed in his new position at the ledgers in the local Union bank.

Oh, Money! Money!

The floor bore innumerable small rugs, one before each chair, each door, and the fireplace. The chairs themselves, and the sofa, were covered with gray linen slips, which, in turn, were protected by numerous squares of lace and worsted of generous size. The green silk spread on the piano was nearly hidden beneath a linen cover, and the table showed a succession of layers of silk, worsted and linen, topped by crocheted mats, on which rested several books with paper-covered covers. The chandelier, mirror and picture frames gleamed dully from behind the mesh mosquito netting. And through the doorway into the hall might be seen the long, red-bordered white linen path, that carried protection to the carpet beneath.

"I don't like myself." (With a start, the man was saying.) "I think it's a foolish extravagance, when kerosene is so good and so cheap; but my husband will have it, and Mellicent, too, in spite of anything I say. Mellicent's my daughter. I tell 'em if we were rich, it would be different, of course. But this is neither here nor there, nor what you came to talk about. Now just what is it that you want, sir?"

"I want to board here, if I may."

"How long?"

"A year—two years, perhaps, if we are mutually satisfied."

"What do you do for a living?"

Smith coughed suddenly. Before he could catch his breath to answer Benny had jumped into the breach.

"He sounds something like a Congregationalist, only he ain't that, Aunt Jane, and he ain't after money for missionaries, either."

Jane Blaisdell smiled at Benny indulgently. "Then she sighed and shook her head."

"You know, Benny, very well, that nothing would suit Aunt Jane better than to give money to all the missionaries in the world, if she only had it to give!" She sighed again as she turned to Mr. Smith.

"For some church, then, I take it, Mr. Smith gave a quick gesture of assent."

"I am a genealogist, madam, in a small way. I am collecting data for a book on the Blaisdell family."

"Oh!" Mrs. Blaisdell frowned slightly. The look of cold disapproval came back to her eyes. "But who pays you? We couldn't take the book, I'm sure. We couldn't afford it."

"That would not be necessary, madam. I assure you, Mr. Smith gave."

"But how do you get money to live on?"

"I mean, how am I to pay my bills?"

"I'll get my pay," she persisted. "Excuse me, but that kind of business doesn't sound very good to me, and you see, I don't know you. And in these days—"

An expressive pause finished her sentence.

"Mr. Smith smiled."

"Quite right, madam. You are wise to be cautious. I had a letter of introduction from my brother, Mr. Robert Chalmers. I think he will vouch for me. Will that do?"

"Oh, that's all right, then. But that isn't saying how much you'll pay. Now, I think—"

There came a sharp knock at the outer door. The eager Benny jumped to his feet, but his aunt shook her head and went to the door herself.

There was a murmur of voices, and the young man entered the hall and sat down in the chair near the hatrack. When Mrs. Blaisdell returned her eyes were very bright. Her cheeks showed two little red spots. She carried herself with manifest importance.

"If you'll just excuse me a minute, she apologized to Mr. Smith, as she swept by him and opened a door at the rear of the room, nearly closing it behind her."

Distinctly then, from beyond the imperfectly closed door, came to the ears of Benny and Mr. Smith the words in Mrs. Blaisdell's most excited accents:

"Mellicent, it's Carl Pennock. He wants you to go auto-riding with him down to the lake with Katie Moore and that crowd."

"Mother!" breathed an ecstatic voice.

What followed Mr. Smith did not hear, for a nearer, yet more excited voice demanded attention.

"Geel, Carl Pennock!" whispered Benny hoarsely. "What? When? Where? My sister Bess be mad? She thinks Carl Pennock's the cutest thing going."

All the girls do! With a warning "Sh-h!" and an expressive glance toward the hall, Mr. Smith tried to stop further revelations; but Benny was not to be silenced.

"They're rich—awful rich—the Pennocks are," he confided still more huskily. "An' there's a girl—Gussie. She's gone on Fred. He's my brother, ye know. A He's seventeen. An' Bess is so 'cause she isn't seventeen, too, so she can go 'an' play tennis same as Fred does. She'll be making a better now, if Mellicent goes auto-riding with Carl, an'—"

"Sh-h!" So impatient were Mr. Smith's voice and gesture at the time that Benny fell back subdued.

At once then became distinctly audible again the voice from the other room. Mr. Smith, forced to hear in spite of himself, had the air of one who finds he has abandoned the trying plan for the fire.

"No, dear, it's quite out of the question," came from beyond the door, in Mrs. Blaisdell's voice. "I can't let you wear your pink. You will wear the blue or stay at home. Just as you choose."

"But, mother, dear, it's all out of date," wailed a young girl's voice. "I can't help that. It's perfectly whole and neat, and you must save the pink for best."

"But I'm always saving things for best, mother, and I never wear my best. I never wear a thing when it's in style! By the time you let me wear the pink, I shan't want to wear it. Sleeves 'll be small then—you see if they aren't!—I shall be wearing the pink. I want to wear the pink now, when other girls do. Please, mother!"

"Mellicent, why will you tease me like this, when you know it will do no good?—when you know I can't let you do it? Don't you think I want you to be as well dressed as anybody, if we could afford it? Come, I'm waiting. You must wear the blue or stay at home. What shall I tell him?"

There was a pause, then there came an articulate word and a choking half-sob. The next moment the door opened and Mrs. Blaisdell appeared. The pink spots in her cheeks had deepened. She shut the door firmly and hurried through the room to the hall beyond. Another minute and she was back in her chair.

"There," she smiled pleasantly. "I'm ready now to talk business, Mr. Smith."

She talked business. She stated plainly what she expected to do for her boarder, and what she expected to be paid. She enlarged upon the advantages and minimized the discomforts, with the aid of a word now and then from the case and interested Benny.

Mr. Smith, on his part, had little to say. That that little was most satisfactory, however, was very evident; for Mrs. Blaisdell was soon quite glowing with pride and pleasure. Mr. Smith was not glowing. He was plainly ill at ease, and his face was slightly abstracted. His eyes frequently sought the door which Mrs. Blaisdell had closed so firmly at the time before. They were still turned in that direction when suddenly the door opened and a young girl appeared.

She was a slim little girl with long, lashed, star-like eyes and a wild-rose hair that fell about her face. She looked excited and pleased, yet not quite happy. She wore a blue dress, plainly made, and was bareheaded.

"Don't stay late. Be in before ten, dear," cautioned Mrs. Blaisdell. "And Mellicent, just a minute, dear. This is Mr. Smith. He's coming here to live—to board, you know. My daughter, Mellicent, will be with him."

Mr. Smith, already on his feet, bowed and murmured a conventional something. From the star-like eyes he received a fleeting glance that made him suddenly conscious of his fifty years and the bald spot on the top of his head. The girl, however, and her mother was speaking again.

"I'm going auto-riding—Mellicent is—with a young man, Carl Pennock—one of the nicest in town. There are four others in the party. They're going down to the lake for cake and ice cream, and they're all nice, young people, else I shouldn't let her go, so small. She favors my mother in looks, but she's got the Blaisdell nose, though. Oh, she's a beauty. I wish you said you were writing a book about wasn't it? You don't mean our Blaisdells, right here in Hillerton?"

"I mean all Blaisdells, wherever I find them," said Mr. Smith.

"Dear me! What do you mean we'll be in the book?" Now that the matter of board had been satisfactorily settled, Mrs. Blaisdell apparently dared to show more interest in the book.

"Certainly."

"You don't say! My how pleased Hattie 'll be—my sister-in-law, Jim's wife. She just loves to see her name in print. I'm a club hanger, and where she pours, you know. But maybe you don't take women, too?"

"Oh, yes, if they are Blaisdells, or have married Blaisdells."

"Oh, that's where we'd come in, then, isn't it? Mellicent and I? And Frank, my husband, he'll like it, too—"

"If you tell about the grocery store. And of course, if you tell about the about him. You'd have to—cause that's all there is to tell. He's the world's greatest grocer. And it's a good store, if I do say it. And there's his sister, Flora, and Maggie—"

"But, there! Just Maggie! You won't be in it, will you, after all? She isn't Blaisdell, and she didn't marry one. Now she's married a hatter."

"Ho! She won't mind." Benny spoke with conviction. "She'll just laugh and say, 'What matter? I'm then Grandpa Duff ask for his drops or his glasses, or something, and she'll forget all about it. She won't care. Yes, I know. I know. Now Maggie! Always just her luck.' Mrs. Blaisdell sighed and looked thoughtful. "But Maggie knows a lot about Blaisdells," she added, brightening. "So she could tell you lots of things—about when they were little, and all that."

"Yes, but that isn't—"

Mr. Smith hesitated doubtfully, and Mrs. Blaisdell jumped into the pause.

"And, really, for that matter, she knows about us now, too, better than most anybody else. Hattie's always speaking for her, and Flora, too, if they're sick, or anything. Poor Maggie! Sometimes I think they actually impose upon her. And she's such a good soul, too. I declare, I never hear her but I know a lot about something for her. But, of course, with my means—but, there! Here I am, never do know when to stop, when I get started on something; and if you were, you'd come here to talk about poor Maggie. Now I'll go back to business. When is it that you want to start—in, to board, I mean?"

"To-morrow."

What a calamity Mr. Smith got to his feet. "And now we must be going," he said. "I have a train to catch. With your permission, then, Mrs. Blaisdell, I'll send my trunks to-morrow."

"And now good-night—and thank you."

"Why—but, Mr. Smith!" The woman, too, came to her feet, but her face was surprised. "Why, you haven't even seen your room yet! How do you know you'll like it?"

"Oh! What?"

"There was a quizzical light to his eyebrows. 'No, I haven't, have I? And people usually do, don't they? Well—perhaps I'm not worrying any. I assure you, I've no doubt it will be quite right, quite."

"Where Strawberries Come From."

Since the season opened 44 carloads of strawberries have been shipped from Okanagan, B.C., to points east and west. The fruit was carefully packed in refrigerating cars, and was moved by passenger trains. The traders expressed themselves perfectly satisfied with the freight service rendered by the railway companies.

A Good Sailor Keeps His Lines Clear of Tangles.

"right," he finished, as he followed Mrs. Blaisdell to a door halfway down the narrow hall.

No Conveniences In "Good Old Houses"

Modern Home Has Many Advantages Over Old Style.

Some people are fond of talking about the "good old days" and the things that went with them. Frequently they remark on the wonderful life of the good old days, giving the impression that the houses of today are in some way vastly inferior.

This, of course, is just one of those little fallacies that no one takes the trouble to deny. But the truth is that the average person who has lived in a modern home would feel severely punished if he had to live in one of these "good old houses" with its usual lack of design and utter lack of the conveniences of the modern home.

With modern materials and present-day workmanship it is possible to have durability and comfort such as was not dreamed of a generation ago, and the perfecting of manufacturing processes, together with the development of many new methods in construction, has made the good things of modern building obtainable at prices that the great majority can afford.

Only those who would prefer grandmother's horse-hair-cloth parlor with its drawn shades to the sun parlor and sleeping porch of the home of today have any occasion to talk about the "good old days" as far as home building is concerned.

During the high price period after the armistice, building costs went to what seemed very high levels. But at their highest, homes were real investments in comfort. Today, with material prices much lower, the home builder can be sure of real value for every dollar invested.

Historic Relics

Heart of King Richard I. Reposes in Rouen Museum.

The "lion heart" of King Richard I. was placed in the Rouen Cathedral until Queen Victoria's reign. In 1838 some antiquaries obtained permission from the Archbishop of Rouen to search for Richard's heart, which tradition stated was near the high altar. Their excavations revealed a recondite statue of Richard, the heart in good preservation with the exception of the nose, hands and feet, which apparently had been broken so as to flatten the effigy when the present pavement was laid over it. Their next find was a leaden case inscribed, "Richard Cor de Lion, Duc de Normandie, Roi d'Angleterre." A hole had been made in the lid—probably by robbers; for it is said that the leaden case was originally enclosed in a silver casket and that some coins were placed therein. The heart, which was enveloped in green taffeta, proved to be intact, though shrunk in its dimensions. After sojourning for a time in the archbishop's palace the heart was transferred to the Rouen Museum of Antiquities, where it has been kept ever since.

Divorces in Japan.

The assertion is made that Japan leads the world in proportion of divorces to marriages. Official reports state that the number of divorces in 1918 were 36,741, as against 50,326 marriages, a ratio of 112.8 divorces to each 1,000 marriages. This is compared to the German rate of 21.6 per thousand, which is said to be the highest divorce rate in Europe. Unofficial figures indicated Japan's rate of increase in population was cut about one-half in 1919 by influenza and high cost of living. The estimated yearly increase of Japan's population has generally been assumed to be about 800,000. In 1918 the customary estimated census showed an increase of about 600,000, while in 1919 the increase was only 308,794.

Beats An Edison Question.

An insect is crawling round the outside of an orange, which has just been picked in a westerly direction out of the window of a railway train going south at the rate of ten miles an hour. The earth is spinning in an easterly direction at the rate of one thousand miles an hour and at the same time circling the sun at a speed of nineteen miles a second. The sun is revolving at the rate of four thousand miles an hour and moving twelve miles a second toward Hercules. Problem? What is the relative of the bug on the orange in ten minutes, circling the sun at Hercules? Ten minutes for this—Youth's Companion.

International Goodwill

Canada Will Hold Her Place Within the Empire, But Will Live In Accord With U.S.

Edward A. Eagle, of New York, has written a book of politics and travels for which he has secured forewords by the prime ministers of the English-speaking nations.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, premier of Canada, describes the book as a thorough-going attempt by an American to interpret some aspects of the British Empire to the American public and adds:

"Canada will hold her place—let there be no delusion—as a dominion within the British Empire. But Canada understands that it is possible for her to hold that place, and at the same time live in perfect neighborly accord with the United States. Only mutual ignorance and suspicion can cause a rupture of the present friendly relations of the family of English-speaking nations. It may be necessary to make constant efforts to sustain, and advance the spirit of goodwill, and to this end we must turn out each small difference, as it arises."

"Above all, we must endeavor to understand each other, and in this every traveler can help. It is a process that can never be completed, where no one can prophesy when and where some disagreement may arise, but whatever it may be a clear understanding of the question is bound to reveal the fact that our interests and purposes are not fundamentally divergent."

Petrograd Honors

Brought Large Cargo of Food, First in Three Years.

Honors such as are usually accorded to royalty or to officials of high rank were given the Dutch steamer Alexander Polden when she arrived at Petrograd recently. The steamer brought the first large cargo of food since the Russian revolution for about three years, and as she passed Kronstadt she was saluted by the battleship Marat, while Russian sailors lined the docks and cheered. The Dutch captain dipped his colors while the ship's band played, and the vessel steamed directly to the dock and began to unload her cargo of herring.

With years of starvation at the back of them the workers at the dock by day and night shifts, unloaded 5,350 barrels of the ship's cargo so swiftly that the next day twenty carloads of herrings were dispatched to Moscow, while the rest were left for distribution in Petrograd. Only the day before she arrived the Economic Life wrote as follows about Petrograd:

"The fate of the city is so tragic that no comparison can be found in the world's history. The immense mortality of Russia during the past few years may be regarded as far more tragic than the fall of Pompeii."

American Capital Interested

Minnesota and Wisconsin Banks Buy Land in Edmonton District.

A party of Minnesota and Wisconsin bankers have been visiting Edmonton and surrounding country. Those comprising the party are G. H. Thacker, head of the Thacker Bond and Mortgage Company, of Minneapolis, is the head of the party, and his associates are R. C. Stuart, of the Ripon State Bank, Ripon, Wis.; W. A. Loveland, of the Bank of Monticello, Monticello, Wis.; and Otto E. Born, of the Kraemer-Born Investment and Banking Company, Fond du Lac, Wis.

The interests represented by the quartette of bankers have investments in $2,000,000 in Alberta, mostly in the central and northern part of the province, and have added to their holdings during the present tour.

The Clover Bar, Fort Saskatchewan, Legal and Mortuary districts were visited by the party and much satisfaction was expressed with the appearance of the country and the agricultural development everywhere in evidence. The report of their opinions, voiced particularly through Mr. Thacker, was that an increased flow of capital from the other side of the line might be looked for as time went on. The possibilities were considered as good here or better, than in either of their home states.

The Unfortunate Rich

Children of Wealthy Parents Not As Well Nourished As The Poor.

In these days of the year when attention is specially directed to the health of children during the trying time of summer heat it is of some interest to note that the United States it is being found that the greatest percentage of delicate children are in wealthy homes. A report made this week on a child-welfare survey of Chicago revealed that in the matter of weight, one of the indications of subnormal physical condition fifty per cent. of the children in the fashionable North Side were deficient, while below the stockyards only eighteen per cent. were underweight. In the tenement district of the northern part of the city only one child in six was below normal.

These findings bear out the representation made to the American Medical Association recently by specialists in children's diseases. The testimony of these specialists was to the effect that there was about twice the extent of malnutrition among children of the rich than there is among the poor. The blame to a considerable extent was placed on bottle-feeding in infancy and too much rich food later. If the conditions reported are common, the poor child in a great many cases is vastly better off than the rich one, for health is not to be valued in money.—Ottawa Journal.

LOST 29 POUNDS DYSENTERY WAS THE CAUSE

Dysentery is one of the worst forms of bowel complaint, and hardly any other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and utter collapse that often terminate fatally. To check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation you need that grand old remedy with a reputation extending of 76 years.

I think I tried every medicine on the market, but did not get relief until I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and one bottle did it. I think there is nothing like it for diarrhoea or dysentery. I always keep some on hand as a person does not know when he will need it. Price 50¢ a bottle, put up only by The T. ## Novel Use For German Indemnity Britain May Use Her Share to Help Overseas Settlers

The parliamentary empire development committee is considering a novel scheme of overseas development. The proposal is that part of the indemnity which Britain is to receive from Germany should be placed in a fund out of which loans would be made to suitable men and families to enable them to settle in the overseas dominions. Next December, Great Britain will receive £500,000,000 worth of German bonds, and the idea is that £500,000,000 worth of these bonds should be guaranteed by the British Government and made the basis of advances to overseas settlers, such advances to be secured by mortgages on properties acquired and developed by the settlers.

PALE AND NERVOUS SCHOOL CHILDREN

Need Rich, Red Blood to Regain Health and Strength. Many children start school in excellent health, but after a short time home work, examinations, hurried meals and crowded school rooms cause their blood to become weak, their nerves overworked and their color and spirits lost. It is a mistake to let matters drift when boys and girls show symptoms of nervousness or weakness. They are almost sure to fall victims of St. Vitus Dance, or drift into debility, which leads to other troubles. Regular meals, outdoor exercises and regular sleep are necessary to combat the nervous wear of school life. But it is still more important that parents should pay attention to the school child's blood supply. Keep it rich and red by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the boy or girl will be sturdy and full of energy. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Watson, Grand Falls, N.B., who says: "In the spring of 1919 my daughter, Thistle, then 12 years of age, began to show symptoms of nervousness which developed into St. Vitus Dance. She seemed to lose control of her limbs and at times every muscle in her body seemed to be twitching and jerking, and the trouble seemed to be growing worse. We finally decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the result was better even than we had hoped for, and she is now enjoying the best of health. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail order. Each box contains six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

A Great Forest Country.

Canada has much land too rocky or too sandy to grow farm crops, but just suited to the growing of forest trees. If this land is kept in forest it will help the farmers, manufacturers, merchants, carriers and working men. But if the forest is destroyed, the land will become a barren desert, streams will dry up, and business and industry will be injured. The chief loss of our forests is fire. Most fires are caused by carelessness. When we let all who go into the forest be careful with fire.

Oil Has More Steam Than Coal.

The amazing increase in the use of oil for fuel is not surprising when it is considered that, weight for weight and volume for volume, the oil gives 50 per cent. more steam than coal. It is easier than coal to handle, it is lighter than dirt, makes little smoke and no ashes and can be lighted instantly and controlled absolutely.

Nature's Own Boiler

Water From the Sea Runs Into the Earth and Causes Activity of Volcanoes.

One of the world's wonders of which few people have ever heard is at Argostoli, in the island of Cephalonia, the largest of the seven Ionian Islands, says Titi-Bits.

The power that works the conic hills at Argostoli is derived from the sea, which rushes downwards into the land. Many millions of gallons of salt water have run down into the interior of the earth in this manner.

Experts believe that the water finds its way down through the soil, and rocks to heated areas far beneath the surface, where it becomes steam.

But where are the necessary outlets for such vast clouds of steam? The opinion is held by some that the answer to this mystery is to be found in the frequent activity of the nearest volcano.

It is supposed that the active volcanoes of Italy are the safety-valves of the enormous subterranean boiler which is turning this inflowing water into the steam and gases which escape from these volcanoes. Some scientists declare that if the inflow of the sea was stopped earthquakes would be less frequent.

Work of Smugglers

Amateur and Professional Smugglers Abound on the Franco-Belgian Frontier.

The Franco-Belgian frontier has long been a happy hunting ground of the smuggler, both amateur and professional. In the customs museum at Lille is a collection of exhibits which give a vivid idea of the tricks employed by smugglers.

There are chairs, brushes, pitchforks, masons' hoes, widows' mourning bonnets, wheelbarrows, saws and boots, all hollowed out for stowing away tobacco. There are stacks of government papers concealing a zinc tobacco receptacle, hollow roulette wheels in which coffee was smuggled, and workmen's drinking cans with only a few inches of liquor in a little vessel beneath the cork, the rest of the can being intended for tobacco.

There are numerous examples of spiked armor, spiked collars and harness furnished with a number of sharp spears, worn by the dogs trained to dash across from Belgium at night, and thus protected against the customs dogs trained to chase them.

Fisherman Lands Trunk of Jewels

French Angler Gets Big Reward For Lucky Catch.

A catch worth 40,000 francs has just been made by one of the patient fishermen that sit all day long on the banks of the French rivers. Georges Barthelmy fished all morning in River Lot, near his native town of Cahors, without getting a bite. Undaunted he swung his line for a final cast.

Yelling excitedly, he landed, instead of a fish, a small black trunk. On wrenching it open a blaze of jewels sparkled in the sunlight—diamond-studded watches, pearls, and gold bracelets, gold and turquoise collars—it was a fortune lying there on the grass.

Inquiry showed that the trunk had been stolen from a railroad strong-room where it had been deposited for safekeeping by a travelling salesman for a Paris jewelry firm. The unknown thief had hidden it in the river, attached to the bank by a strong black thread, with the intention of salvage later. The police set a sharp watch, but the news evidently reached the robber, for he made no sign. Barthelmy receives a reward of 2,500 francs.

Thought Sinn Feiners Had Arrived

Old Gentleman With Ear Trumpet Scared London Maid.

In a London suburb where Sinn Feiners have been particularly active, the guests at a party given by the wife of a well-known city man recently received the shock of their lives. Just as the maid was serving tea, another domestic rushed into the room and, knocking the tea tray out of her colleague's hand in her agitation, screamed excitedly: "Oh, mum, the Sinn Feiners are here!"

When the subsequent commotion had somewhat subsided, it appeared that an elderly gentleman, who is rather deaf, calling to see the master of the house, had started out of her wits the young domestic who answered the door by suddenly producing a polished brass ear-trumpet, which the nervous girl had taken for a firearm!

A Private Man.

Edith Wharton, the writer, told this war story: "The American wounded were being brought back to the front by a 'human battle,' she said, 'and a fussy American woman in a khaki uniform and Sam Browne belt knelt over a stretcher and said, 'Is this case an officer or only a man?' The brawny corporal who stood beside the stretcher, who had a grim laugh and said: 'Well, lady, he ain't no officer, but he's been hit twice in the innards, both legs busted, he's got two bullets in both arms, and we dropped him three times without his letting out a squeak, so I guess you can call him a man.'"

Conditions Good in Germany

Are Hopeful of Paying Indemnity, Says Canadian Officer.

The German people are hopeful of being able to pay their war indemnity and indications are that they will be able to do so if given time, in the opinion of Major Spencer Reijl, controller of the clearing office in Canada, which is handling enemy property and reparations.

Major Reijl has just returned to Ottawa after spending some time in England and Germany regarding conditions in Germany. Major Reijl stated that he found every evidence that all factories were running full blast all night and German agricultural prospects were excellent.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not intestinal worms, they have there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Has Value at Bank

J. P. Morgan Speaks of Importance of Personal Character of Borrower.

J. Pierpont Morgan, in discussing the question of the making of loans, is reported to have said he had loaned a million dollars to a customer who had no visible assets. The money was advanced on the character and reputation of the borrower. Mr. Morgan is reported to have said:

A good character is worth more than a good bank account. Character can make a bank account, but a bank account cannot make a good character. It is your duty to build your life through the principles for which you stand in your everyday life.

A Monster Sturgeon.

One of the largest sturgeon ever sold was caught recently by William Goodrich, a Berens River Indian, fishing at Pigeon Bay, Lake Winnipeg. Helgi Einarsen, the buyer, said it was the biggest he had ever seen. Its weight was 190 pounds. It dressed it tipped the scales at 120. The head alone weighed 27 pounds. Its length was eight feet six inches and circumference four feet three inches.

Placating The Crowd.

The British Government declares it is abandoning war subsidies to agriculture, which would amount to $100,000,000 or $150,000,000. But it is making a grant of £3 per acre for wheat, and £4 for oats this year, the cost of which will be between $7,500,000 and $17,500,000. This is one way of trying to placate the economy crowd.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

A Tennis Frock Of Striped Silk

By Marie Belmont.

Heavy crepe de chine is an admirable silk for the summer sport frock. While the plain weaves may be had in many lovely colors the striped silk can be developed in most attractive models. An excellent quality of crepe de chine is chosen for the model illustrated. It has a cream ground, which is broken at regular intervals by stripes of blue and gold. On skirt and blouse, which is cut with kimono sleeves, the stripes are horizontal. Bands of the silk with the stripes running vertically extend from shoulders to hem and give a touch of distinction to the dress. The tie is made of blue silk.

Mild Epidemic Going Round

It is due to impurities in the water, causes cramps, diarrhoea, headache. Those who take twenty drops of Nerviline in sweetened water usually get quick relief. It is really wonderful how good old Nerviline fixes up a sour stomach, how it stops cramps, how quickly it puts a stop to those nasty attacks of dysentery. Every home should have a bottle or two of good old Nerviline on hand. 35 cents everywhere.

Travel A Good Investment

Get Away For a Vacation And See The Signs.

In every person's life at some time or other there comes a feeling of utter exhaustion, or, as many say, "Fed up," with a general lack of interest in their everyday surroundings. Hard work is as a rule blamed for this condition, and little is done to remedy it until too late and the family physician is called. Work may be to a certain extent responsible for this condition, but the chief reason is the lack of a change, a relaxation of the mind. Get away for a few weeks vacation, see new sights and how the rest of the world live. Enjoy a change of climate. There are thousands of interesting places in Canada which may be enjoyed either winter or summer, and within easy reach by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

A trip at any season of the year will prove a good investment and send you back with renewed vigor, broad view and much wiser from the knowledge gained. A postal card to any Canadian Pacific Agent will bring you literature and any information desired.

Cloth caps were produced to the value of $3,700,000. LESSON FOR JULY 31.

SAUL TEACHING AT ANTIOCH.

When God was about to launch the missionary enterprise among the Gentiles, He arranged for a new religious center, Antioch, which was admirably adapted for such a centre. The upper classes were Greek, and used the Greek language. The government officials were Romans and used the Latin tongue. While the masses were Syrians, sprinkled among them were Jews who had come for commercial purposes; also travellers from all parts of the world were in evidence.

I. A Religious Awakening at Antioch (vv. 19-21).

1. The occasion (v. 19a). The persecution at Jerusalem scattered the disciples abroad. In sending a man in order to separate them from the home people at Jerusalem.

2. The preachers (v. 19a). They were ordinary men and women, not officials, but they were filled with the yearning desire for lost souls and winned of the Lord Jesus in the power of the Holy Ghost.

3. What they preached (vv. 19b, 20). They preached the "Word" and the "Lord Jesus." All who preach the Word will preach the Lord Jesus; for He is its centre. The real reason why there are not conversions today is the failure of ministers to preach the Word.

II. Barnabas Sent to Inspect the Work at Antioch (vv. 22-24).

This was a wise selection.

1. The character of Barnabas (v. 24). He was a good man. It is highly important in sending a man to follow up a work of the Spirit that his character be good. He not only must be of an unblemished character, but his sympathies must be broad. He must be capable of entering into full appreciation of the things about him. Much mischief often results from sending injudicious men to look after the Lord's work. He was full of the Holy Spirit. This is an essential qualification for pastoral work. Only a Spirit-filled man can appreciate the workings of the Spirit of God. He was also a man of great faith.

2. Work done by Barnabas (v. 23). He gladly endorsed the work and earnestly exhorted them to steadfastly continue in the faith, clinging unto the Lord. There are many allurements to tempt young Christians. The rejoicing of Barnabas shows that he was a man who could rejoice in the work of others. He did more than inspect the work; for many people were added unto the Lord. Doubtless he preached.

III. Barnabas Brings Saul (vv. 25, 26). The work grew so such an extent that help was needed. Barnabas knew that the bringing of Saul would mean his taking a secondary place. It is the duty of Christian leaders to seek out men who are qualified for the Lord's work and bring them from their places of obscurity, setting them to work in the Lord's vineyard. There are many men in obscurity which require a Barnabas to bring forth.

IV. The Disciples First Called Christians (v. 26b). They were not called Christians in derision, as is so often asserted. It was a consequence of Saul and Barnabas teaching there for a year that they were called Christians. The name was a consequence of the teaching. In all Saul's teaching he showed the unique relation which the Christian sustains to Christ. Since the body closely resembles its head, Christ, they were called Christians.

V. The Church at Antioch Sends Relief to Jerusalem (vv. 27-30).

The Holy Spirit through Agabus made known a great dearth throughout the world. This came to pass in the days of Claudius Cesar. Every man according to his ability determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea. They made up money for the poor saints at Jerusalem and sent it by the hands of Barnabas and Saul. This act not only proved the genuineness of their work at Antioch, but it emphasized the fact that there is no division between Jew and Gentile.

Going Down.

A Scotchman who was notorious as a skeptic once decreed a massive mausoleum for his final rest and one day he observed an elder of the kirk gazing at it.

"Strong place that, hey David?" he said. "I'll take a monie time tae raise up out o' that at the day o' judgement."

"Heer, mon," said David, "ye can gie yerself little fash about raisin' when that day comes. They'll take the bottom 'oot o' it and let ye fa' doon."—Boston Transcript.

Orange-Outang Strong

Never Travels on the Ground When He Can Swing From Tree to Tree.

The strength of the orang-outang, or "wild man," as the name means in Malay, is largely in his arms. The arms of a man measure ten feet or more from tip to tip. The mia type, which is next in size to the gorilla, is somewhat larger than the ordinary breed. It is distinguished by a darker color and by folds of skin at each side of the head. Its legs, from shoulders to hips, is about the size of a man's. It has short, undeveloped legs, long fingers and thumbs that are mere stubs. An orang-outang never travels on the ground when he can swing from tree to tree, and, since there are very few open spaces in the jungle, he seldom reaches the ground only when he goes down to get something which he can swing incredible distances, hurling through the air and catching branches with perfect accuracy.

THE QUESTION OF IMMIGRATION

Following the news over the wire from London, Eng. it would seem that in some quarters there the Canadian government is criticised for its attitude towards British immigration. A conference upon Empire and settlement is to be held in London and it is thought that Ottawa is rather more than lukewarm in its manner of dealing with the matter. Australia's more ready acceptance of the schemes involved is commended upon the settlement. It does not follow, of course, that Canada must fall in with the question; we have a situation in this country which is probably quite different from Australia's, and British immigration to Canada must be handled with due regard to our capacity to assimilate it.

Canada does not want new population just for the sake of saying that so many newcomers arrived in this country within a given time. We cannot take up the Empire and settlement. The Country of a portion of its unemployed; we have an unemployment problem of our own on our hands. We must control immigration to make it beneficial to Canada as well as to the British Isles. The general prosperity of the Empire will not be improved by transferring men from the ranks of the unemployed in Britain to the ranks of the unemployed in Canada. We want men who are willing to go upon the land and stand a chance of succeeding there. But not those who are likely to start for the land and end up in the winter bread line in the cities.

It would not do to permit the British authorities to get the idea that Canada is not interested in the settlement of British immigrants. We are. But we want them at the right time; when we can absorb them into the productive life of the country. This is a matter which ought to be taken up by the Western Canada Colonisation Association. Had not the plan of the association been held up by western provincial elections it is probable that by this time its officers may have visited England to put their machinery in operation there. It may be safely assumed that they will be organised in time to take advantage of movements of British settlers as early as conditions in Canada will warrant it.

HISTORY OF THE FARMERS' MOVEMENT

The farmers of Alberta met in caucus in Calgary last week in far different circumstances than those which marked a small meeting of farmers in the ten Saskatchewan village of Indian Head slightly less than twenty years ago.

What is generally termed the farmers' movement in Western Canada originated with six farmers of the old North-West Territories—Sibbald and Millar of Indian Head, Motherwell and Dayman of Abernethy, Williams of Balcarres and Snow of Wolsely. They called their first meeting, which was held in Indian Head, in December, 1901. It was attended by some 75 farmers. In the following year 38 grain growers' meetings were held, and the activities and success of the new movement were so pronounced that the organization fever spread to Manitoba, where the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association was formed in 1903. As in the case of the other territorial associations, the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association was connected with the new development at its earliest stage who are still prominent in it. Hence, the first Manitoba president, is now outside the pale, but Rodrick Mackenzie, the first secretary, remains still the Canadian farmer's representative in the Canadian farmers' co-operative movement. Later developments were the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association in 1906, the Inter-provincial Council, which later became the Canadian Council of Agriculture in 1911 and the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Company in 1913.

The time between that first small meeting at Indian Head and the present has witnessed many dramatic changes in Canada, but few have struck so hard as the change from the almost despairing condition of that little group of Western grain growers to the militant strength of the organized farmers of the West today.

When those farmers, twenty years ago, met at Indian Head, it was not the first time the Western grain growers had organized. They had their "Farmers' Unions" in the middle eighties of last century, and their "Patrons of Industry" in the early nineties. Hopkins, Moosehouse, in his able history of the co-operative movement in Western Canada, gives the reasons for the failure of the attempts to maintain an organization. "The Patrons of Industry," he writes, "had gained much strength, and for a time looked healthy. It had then got strong enough to elect friends to the legislature and was sowing good seed but again temptation appeared, centred in the lure of commercial success and politics. Some of the chief officers began to mislead the organization, to selfish ends and away went the whole thing."

The use of the association for political ends was regarded as being fatal to its best interests in those days, although it is evident by now so regarded today.

FEELING PRETTY SMALL

Here's a good one an exchange hands out—One day not long ago a preacher of our state was out hunting and during the day a bad storm came on. In order to keep dry he crawled into a hollow log. As the rain got worse the log began to swell until our brother could get neither way. He really thought his end had come, and he thought of all the wrong he had done and when he recalled that he had gone off on his vacation without paying up his newspaper subscription he felt so small that he crawled right out of the log without difficulty.

OUR INSECTIVOROUS BIRD

LIFE ON THE PRAIRIES

It may appear startling, but it is a fact that fall the insect pests ravaging our crops could be suppressed, and all the plant and tree diseases eradicated, and the increased revenue derived by the country thereby could be turned into the Dominion Treasury. There would need to be no question of taxation. This idea is largely substantiated by the fact set forth by the Entomologist of the Dominion Department of Agriculture that a conservative estimate of the annual loss in Canada to field, orchard and garden crops due to insect pests is upwards to $200,000,000. As our authority says "To this huge devastation must be added the enormous annual destruction caused by forest insects, stored product insects, etc." Upon this statement the Entomologist founds a well-sustained argument in favor of the protection of insectivorous birds, such as the prairie horned lark, and robin, the somewhat despised crow, the red-breasted Nuthatch, the Chickadee, the grouse, gulls, and many other kinds. In the state of Iowa it has been estimated that tree sparrows annually devour something like 895 tons of weed! Speaking of the robin, an investigator in Toronto found that a single bird kept in confinement ate 165 cutworms in one day. Another authority states that a brood of prairie horned larks consumed 40 cutworms in one day. This same authority, namely, Mr. Norman Criddle, Dominion Entomologist in Manitoba, declares that six crows are capable of consuming three bushels of grasshoppers in one season.

TIME HAS ARRIVED TO CONSERVE OUR SOILS

Hon. C. M. Hamilton, minister of agriculture of Saskatchewan, speaking at the agricultural conference said:

"It is significant that the need for conservation of our soils has been pointed out for years past by our leading agriculturalists. In a report of the Experimental Farm Indian Head back in the eighties Mr. Mackay indicates that we must look forward to the time when we shall put back into the soil some of the ingredients which were being taken out through the production of crops. We have all been so concerned with the greater production of grains, however, that nature's warnings, in the form of drifting soil, have not received the attention which they deserve and I am of the opinion that the time has arrived when in many sections of the older parts of the province we must give this matter serious consideration."

SECURING SATISFACTORY RESULTS FROM POULTRY

If residing either in town or country and you wish to know how best to keep poultry and secure the most satisfactory result consult a pamphlet treating of this subject prepared by the Dominion poultry husbandman F. C. Elford, and recently issued by the department of agriculture at Ottawa. This pamphlet can be had free on application to the publications branch. It tells of how poultry can be made to pay, how the birds should be housed and fed, how they should be treated in winter and summer, how to commence keeping in a small way the equipment that is desirable, how to choose a breed, how to hatch and rear, and how to gather, keep, or market the eggs. In short, all the essentials to success in poultry keeping for home consumption or selling are clearly and explicitly explained. In the term poultry are included ducks, geese, turkeys, etc., the raising and care of which are all fully discussed; and the book is profusely illustrated.

On account of the clashing of the date with the regatta and the Greenshields garden party, the annual Sunday school picnic of the Methodist church has been postponed until Wednesday, August 10th.

It is managed and edited by men who have had practical farm experience, and who have closely and carefully studied and kept in touch with agriculture in the prairie provinces. It is

Eleven Years' Performance Proves OilPull Dependability

ELEVEN years ago the first Rumely OilPull tractor were put on the market. They were the industry's pioneers and went into the great unbroken prairies of the Northwest and Canada. They went up against the toughest conditions of soil and climate that ever tested a tractor. And they "made good"—their owners will tell you that.

Many thousands of OilPulls have followed these pioneers, and in these eleven years the OilPull has built up a record of continuous, reliable, economical operation that is unequalled in the pages of tractor history. In fact, the first OilPulls built are still on the job—Old Number One in South Dakota, Number Six and Number Nine in Kansas, and many others—year after year of continuous service and still good for many years more.

So the OilPull has built a remarkable record for the kind of service it will deliver to its owner. Eleven years test has proved the correctness of OilPull design and this same assurance of dependable service is in every OilPull you buy—no matter the size. Today the OilPull is made in sizes to fit every need—from 3-hp. to 10-hp.—and every one is backed by a written guarantee—12-20, 16-30, 20-40 and 30-60 H. P.

Let us tell you more about this famous oil-burning, oil-cooled tractor.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Any piece of equipment that makes it possible for a farmer to spend more time at production work—that enables him to do with less hired labor or dispense with it entirely—that permits of crops being put in, harvested or marketed under favorable conditions and in less time—that permits of more hours of work each day during the rush season—that makes farm work easier and more of a pleasure,—such equipment not only becomes an economical investment, but a real necessity.

The motor truck possesses these advantages. Statistics recently compiled show that grain can be hauled by motor truck for half the cost of grain hauled by horses.

"A Message To Garcia"

Some years ago the late, Elbert Hubbard wrote what he himself termed "a literary trifle," entitled "A Message To Garcia." Did you ever read it? If not, get a copy and do so; it will repay you. Hubbard wrote it in an hour one evening after supper. Of this "literary trifle" he himself said: "The thing leaped hot from my heart, written after a trying day, when I had been endeavoring to train some rather delinquent villagers to abjure the comatose state and get radiative." In the course of a few years "A Message To Garcia" was translated into every known language and over forty million copies had been printed. And its sale still continues.

The story itself is brief; it is the wonderful lesson it conveys that counts. When war broke out between the United States and Spain over Cuba, it was very necessary for the United States Government to communicate quickly with the leader of the Cuban insurgents. General Garcia was somewhere in the mountain fastnesses of Cuba—no one knew where. No mail or telegraph message could reach him. The President must secure his co-operation, and quickly. But how?

Someone said to the President, "There is a fellow by the name of Rowan who will find Garcia for you, if anybody can." Rowan was sent for and given a letter to be delivered to Garcia. "The fellow by the name of Rowan" took the letter, sealed it up in an old tin pouch, strapped it to his chest, and in four days landed by night off the coast of Cuba from an open boat, disappeared into the jungle, and in three weeks came out on the other side of the Island, having traversed a hostile country on foot, and delivered his letter to Garcia.

Now the point of this story is not the bravery of the man in thus risking his life, for thousands of men would unquestioningly run equal or greater risks; the point is that Rowan took the letter and did not stop to ask a multitude of questions such as, "Who is Garcia?" "Where is he to be found?" "What does he look like?" "What do you want him for?" "Is there any particular hurry?" No, Rowan took the letter and started, knowing that all that was required of him was to deliver it. He had one clear-cut job to do, and he proceeded to do it.

How many of the countless millions of men and women who are employed in shops, factories, offices, stores, and on farms, are possessed of Rowan's characteristics? How many display the same loyalty to a trust, act promptly and without questioning, concentrate their energies on the task before them; in a word, do the thing—"Carry a message to Garcia"? The regrettable fact is that not one in ten do so. Yet it does not call for any special training, or ability, but merely the exercise of will and a determination to do it.

As Elbert Hubbard pointed out, in his little booklet, General Garcia is dead now, but there are other Garcias to whom messages have to be delivered daily. No man who has endeavored to carry out an enterprise where many hands were needed, no man directing a large business, but has been well-nigh appalled at times by the inability of the average man—the inability or unwillingness to concentrate on a thing and do it. Slipshod assistance, foolish inattention, drowsy indifference and half-hearted work soon the rule; and the lack of initiative displayed by the average employee, the forces or bribes other men to assist him; or, mayhap, God in His goodness performs a miracle, and sends him an Angel of Light for an assistant.

Today the average employee is more concerned about working as few hours as he possibly can manage to get away with and still hold his job. His ambition seems to be, not to excel in his work, but to collect from his employer as large a wage as possible in return for the give as little as possible. If employers grant an 8-hour day, the employees of this day and generation immediately organize and combine to compel them to concede a 7-hour day, but they still want an 8-hour day wage. They insist upon the observance of all holidays, but demand to be paid just the same. If asked in an emergency to do a piece of work which ordinarily does not fall within their duties, they object, claiming they were not hired for that purpose. Fellows "by the name of Rowan" seem to be mighty scarce these days, and the lack of initiative displayed by the average employee is simply appalling, coupled with an absolute unwillingness to make his employer's interests his own.

This incapacity for independent action, this moral stupidity, this infirmity of the will, this willingness to cheerfully catch hold and lift—these are the things that put pure Socialism so far into the future and make thoughtful men and women who are out of work, hesitant movements which might be mighty for the benefit of all. If men will not act for themselves, what will they do when the benefit of their effort is for all?

It is the men of the Rowan type who are getting on in the world, while these others remain the willing slaves of the "walking bosses" of the Labor Unions. In self-protection the employer is forced to constantly resort to a wedding-out process, and no matter how good times may be, the incapable and unorderly are out of work, being replaced by others; and when times are hard the sorting-out process is done finer—but out and forever out the incompetent and unworthy go.

But there is always an opening, steady employment and a bright future for men and women who can be trusted to "Carry a message to Garcia" whenever they are called upon to do so.

New Type of Aircraft

All-Canadian Flying Boat to be Tested Out Shortly.

An All-Canadian flying boat, designed and built in Canada especially to meet Canadian flying conditions, is to be demonstrated under the auspices of the Canadian Air Board in the near future.

Some time ago the board decided to purchase several new types of machines of latest design for trial under Canadian conditions in connection with civil and government flying. In view of the drastic reduction of air board estimates before they were brought into parliament last session, however, it was found that there was not sufficient money provided for this plan.

It has now been decided by the board to proceed with the construction in Canada of a new type of flying boat in an endeavor to meet the special requirements of civil government flying as based on first-hand experience gained from actual operations carried on to date. The encouragement of the aircraft industry in Canada, the air board feels, is most desirable, and this action, it is felt, may pave the way to the firm establishment of the industry, even though the start must be made on a small scale.

Alberta Highways

Alberta Link of the Trans-Canadian Road Will Be Completed This Year.

Huge sums of money are being spent in road construction in Alberta this year. The Alberta link of the trans-Canadian road will be completed this year. The greater part of the road work in the province this season has been in the construction and repairing of the trunk road, but next year branch and district roads are to receive the most attention, and by 1923 it is expected that the province will have a network of highways that will be second to none on the American continent.

The Alberta Government is being assisted in the construction of the trunk road by a grant of forty cents of the cost of the road which the Dominion Government is making, provided the work reaches a certain standard which the Dominion Government has set.

Cause of Increase of Crime

London Paper Thinks It Has Found Root of Trouble.

The crime and immorality which prevail at present are the ripening fruit of a really rotten system of cultivation of our nervous system. We start our perceptive system in the nursery, where we substitute excitement and nerve stimulation for the natural growth and unfolding of the mental character of the infant. We over-stimulate and work the child through nursery and school life, and when we have established the diseased and unstable psychological condition which is characteristic of the vast majority of our adolescents and adults today, we crave for, and compete in providing, ever more potent and soul-destroying draughts of excitement and horrors in our sports and amusements. It is a "Rake's Progress" along the path away from the well-balanced and healthy mind, character, and towards the formation of a race of hysterical and nervous wrecks.—The London Daily News.

Sauces For Food

BY LORETTA C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

If you have the very best and choicest of foods, you may not need to know much about sauces, but sauce is the making of less expensive cuts of meat and other foods, and people frequently prefer cuts of beef with its delicious brown sauce to the more expensive sautéed portions.

If the general principles of the basic sauce is committed to memory, one may gain a decided reputation as a maker of sauces by adding one's own individual touch. All measurements are to be taken level and a standard half-pint cup is to be used.

Basic Recipe For Sauce.

Two tablespoons of fat—2 tablespoons of flour; 1 cup liquid. The fat may be butter or any of the vegetable oils or the dripping of meat and so on. The liquid may be either stock (water in which meat or fish or vegetable was cooked), or strained tomato or milk or water. If salt is to be used, generally one-fourth teaspoon is sufficient for one cup of liquid.

There are several ways of putting the ingredients for a sauce together. The fat may be melted slowly in a pan and the flour added and cooked until the mixture is frothy throughout. The cold liquid is then added and stirred constantly and vigorously until the mixture is smooth, thick and boiling.

Sauce may also be made in a double boiler. This is especially desirable when time is no object and when milk, which scorches easily, is used as the liquid. In this case the fat is usually butter. It is beaten to a cream and the flour is then beaten into it. The milk is added and the sauce is stirred over hot water until thick and smooth.

Melt two tablespoons of fat in a pan and add one-fourth of a teaspoon each of salt and pepper. Cook until frothy and add one cup of cold water. Cook, stirring until thick. Then gradually add about two tablespoons of butter, bit by bit, until it is absorbed. If the sauce is at all lumpy, strain it.

Caper Sauce.

Make a cup of drawn butter, using the broth from boiled lamb or mutton for the liquid. When ready to serve add two tablespoons of capers drained from the liquid in the bottle. A teaspoon of lemon juice may be added if desired. A similar quantity of finely chopped parsley may be substituted for the capers.

Egg Sauce.

To a cup of brown butter add a hard-cooked egg, chopped. This sauce is good for serving with boiled fish.

Makes Breathing Easy.

The connection of the air passages and the strain for breath, too familiar evidence of asthmatic trouble, cannot be cured by Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. This is the famous remedy which is known far and wide for its complete effectiveness even in very severe conditions. It is a non-nutritive, experimental preparation, but one with many years of strong service behind it. Buy it from your nearest dealer.

Match-Making at Nelson

Soft White Pine of the Kootenays is Found Suitable for Making Matches.

Very apparently, the soft white pine of the Kootenays has been recommended itself strongly to the match-making industry as suitable material for matches. Following the recent announcement of steps being taken to start making matches at Nelson, a second industry, similar to but entirely independent of the first, has been launched at the inland city. This is a plant for turning out "match blocks" to be shipped east where various match factories will buy the material for turning out matches. It is said that by the end of July this second plant will be in operation at Nelson, giving employment to from thirty to forty operatives. W. W. Powell, formerly of Spokane, is the principal in the new industry and he estimates that he will be shipping about a car a day of the product to the eastern market.

Captain Andrew W. Beauchamp-Proctor, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., D.F.C., was killed near Enford, Wilts, during a practice flight in a Sopwith Snipe. Captain Proctor was born during the siege of Mafeking and did gallant air work on the western front in the late war.

His V.C. award is dated November 30, 1918, and stated "he has proved himself conqueror over 54 foes." ## The Perils of Aviation Aviation Has a Long Way to Go Before It Attains Perfection.

The terrible death of Harry G. Hawker, the first aviator to attempt a flight across the Atlantic in an aeroplane, will come as a shock to those who have admired the achievements of this intrepid man and others associated with him in what is, after all, the pioneer work of what is bound to be in time one of the greatest and most effective means of transportation. The machine was seen descending in flames at the end of a long and perilous flight, and the aviator was found 200 yards from the place where the aeroplane fell.

Despite the tremendous advance which has been made in aviation, particularly during the war, the science is still in its initial stages, and its votaries are, therefore, exposed to all the perils pertaining to a pursuit which is full of uncertainties, and which has a long way to go before it attains anything like perfection. One, therefore, cannot withhold tribute of admiration for those who risk their lives in this manner in the service of their fellow men.—The London Advertiser.

Her Improvement Is Now Talk Of Friends Says Toronto Woman

"Tanlac has certainly had a good chance in my case to show what it can do, for I surely had a long, hard struggle and had just about tried everything," said Mrs. Mary Richards, 251 Ashdale Ave., Toronto.

"I have been in a badly run-down condition ever since I had pneumonia six years ago. My stomach was nearly always out of order. My appetite was very poor and had to be very careful about what I ate, as I suffered terribly from indigestion, bronchitis and pains in my chest. My sleep was never sound and I had a tired, worn out feeling all the time. I had dreadful headaches and weak spells and had fallen off in weight until I was scarcely more than a shadow of my former self, and I was absolutely unfit for work of any kind."

"But Tanlac has done me a world of good. My stomach is in fine condition now and I eat all I want and everything agrees with me perfectly. All my aches and pains are a thing of the past and I'm stronger than I've been in a long time. In fact, Tanlac has the same as made a new person of me, for I can do my housework and work and my friends are talking about the wonderful change that has come over me. I don't believe anyone who suffers as I did can do better than take Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

What It Costs To Make Shoes

Labor Averages Only One Dollar A Pair.

If shoe workers worked for nothing it would not affect the price of boots and shoes more than a dollar a pair. This is the answer of General Organizer E. W. O'Dell, of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, to the charge that labor costs were preventing a reduction in the price of shoes and boots.

The average labor cost in a pair of boots or shoes is no more than a dollar, the maximum being $1.25 in a $16 pair, he said.

For Sprains and Bruises.—There is nothing better for sprains and contusions than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It will reduce the swelling that follows a sprain, will cool the inflamed flesh and draw the pain. It will take the ache out of a bruise and prevent the flesh from discoloring.

Nelson's Ship In Danger Of Sinking

Steel Casing Around Hull Would Keep Victory Afloat.

Nelson's old flagship, the Victory, is likely to sink at her moorings in Portsmouth Harbor, said the Marquis of Milford Haven at the meeting of the Society of Nautical Research. It was suggested, he added, that a cement or steel casing round the hull might be made, and as the Admiralty has no funds available, something would have to be done by public help.

Read The Advertisements

Make Your Purchases From Your Merchants and Help Stimulate Business.

The publishers of this paper draw your attention to the advertising columns, and particularly to the advertisements of our local merchants. These merchants have invested their money in goods to satisfy the needs and desires of us all.

Their enterprise is a distinct service to our community. For this reason we should buy from them to the best of our ability and in so far as our needs and judgment of value dictates.

Then, too, the general commodities advertised in our columns are worthy of consideration. It is desirable that readers should adopt merchants to supply advertising goods wherever possible. By doing so the cycle of trade is kept alive and inter-community commerce stimulated. We repeat—read the advertisements.

Community Automobile

Japanese Are Enthusiastic Over Idea Of Joint Ownership.

The community automobile, owned jointly by 200 would-be motorists, is the latest thing in Japan. Fifty-five American automobiles have been sold by a recently organized Japanese company to 11,000 owners, each of whom paid $10 for his share in one of the cars. In return for his $10, the "owner" received a one-year's interest in the car. The year is divided into days and hours, and a specific time is allotted for each stockholder to ride. For instance, a stockholder may be entitled to ride in his car every other Thursday, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The hours have been so arranged that four people go riding with the driver each period. While it is difficult to imagine an American owner purchasing a two-hundredth interest in a motor car, the 11,000 Japanese who have purchased "stock" in the cars are enthusiastic about the idea.

Fur Sale in Winnipeg.

The third successful Winnipeg auction fur sale took place on the 5th July, when 250,000 pelts were disposed of to 500 buyers from various large United States cities. The fur was sold in 413 lots, and a low estimate of the aggregate value is over $500,000.

Britain Will Continue Her Policy Of Replacing Obsolete Capital Ships

London.—Mr. Lloyd George declared in the House of Commons that it was essential for the Government to proceed with its policy of replacing obsolete capital ships of the navy.

Mr. Lloyd George made this declaration in answer to questions concerning the Government's naval programme.

The necessity for replacing obsolete ships, the Prime Minister said, would not be affected by the forthcoming conference on disarmament in Washington, which he assumed "will be a complete success."

The Prime Minister was speaking concerning the four capital ships provided for in the naval estimates. He was asked if the Government would not suspend work on capital

UNITED STATES IS HOPEFUL THAT JAPAN WILL AGREE TO FULL DEBATE

Washington.—Renewed confidence that Japan will consent to a broad discussion of Far Eastern problems as part of the disarmament conference, was evident in official circles here after another informal exchange of views between the Japanese and United States Governments.

The Japanese ambassador, Baron Shidehara, called on Secretary Hughes at the State Department and they are understood to have discussed at length the situation resulting from Japan's reluctance to have the Far Eastern question subjected to debate in the disarmament negotiations. It was indicated afterward that the mutual exchange was regarded as helpful

Bodies Of Fallen Soldiers Removed

Claim Many Canadian Graves in France and Flanders Are Empty.

London.—The Daily Express makes a sensational statement respecting Canadian bodies on the battlefields of France and Belgium. According to this paper, one of the startling allegations made by a responsible Canadian Government official working on the War Graves Commission is re-interment of the dead, is that "many graves in the Great War cemeteries of Flanders and France marked with the names of fallen soldiers are in fact empty of remains."

The Canadian official declared to the Daily Express representative: "There is a cemetery at Hooge, which has a whole line of empty graves, although each is marked with a cross and relative and friends of the fallen have actually been in the cemetery when graves have been opened and found nothing. Their distress has been beyond imagination."

This officer says there appears to be a lack of supervision of the general work and in proof he relates how a wealthy Canadian from the west, on being denied the removal of his son from a cemetery in Flanders, managed to get two men to dig up the body at midnight and the remains were shipped across the Atlantic from Antwerp. One of the men engaged is understood to have been concerned in other cases of removal.

To Build Houses For Workmen.

Montreal.—Work is immediately to be begun in the city of a programme that calls for 1,500 substantial brick houses for workmen.

A corporation composed largely of business men who feel that the housing shortage is handicapping the industrial progress of the city, will finance the project. Workmen will be encouraged to buy houses.

Red Cross Subscriptions.

London.—A report issued by the British Red Cross Society shows that during the war the public subscriptions were £16,500,000 in cash, and contributed stores of the value of £1,000,000.

British and Dominion Premiers To Confer on Disarmament

Meeting in London May Postpone Indefinitely Return of Premier Meighen to Canada.

London.—It is believed that the idea of holding a preliminary disarmament conference was originally proposed by Wm. Morris Hughes, premier of Australia, and Wm. F. Massey, premier of New Zealand, who will be unable to go to the United States during the autumn owing to the convening of their respective parliaments. A London conference is supposed also to have been strongly favored by Japan.

Instead of the proposed preliminary conference, there will be held here a conference between the British cabinet ministers and the Dominion premiers. For this purpose, Premier Meighen of Canada has postponed indefinitely his idea of sailing for home.

ships pending the outcome of the Washington conference.

Mr. Lloyd George said the Government, in replacing obsolete ships, neither committed itself to nor contemplated any extensive programme in answer to that of any other power.

As a result of candid discussions with the principal naval powers, the Prime Minister declared, it might be possible to avoid anything in the nature of competitive building, but he said it would be a dereliction of duty on the part of the admiralty to allow the efficiency in training or morale of the Royal Navy to deteriorate from neglect and not to provide it with material equal to the best and in which full confidence could be reposed.

Winnipeg Housing Scheme

Winnipeg.—The city of Winnipeg under the post-war housing relief fund will have advanced a total of $1,438,000 for construction of 356 dwellings when the 1921 building season comes to an end November 1, a representative of the housing commission announced.

Most of the dwellings will be occupied by regularly constituted taxpayers of the city. The houses are constructed according to standard specifications and are inspected carefully while under construction.

McMillan Expedition To North

Hope to Winter in Latitude Where No Boat Has Been For Hundred Years.

Halifax.—"We hope to winter in Fary and Hecla Straits, seventy degrees north latitude where no ship has been for one hundred years," said Prof. Donald B. MacMillan, in an interview on board his exploration ship Bowdoin, en route to the far north to explore one thousand miles of unknown coast line on the western shores of Baffinland.

The Bowdoin stated Prof. MacMillan, is one of the smallest ships that have ever travelled forth. The last expedition was made by Captain Parry, a British naval officer, who was in search of a northwest passage. His men went down with scurvy and his two ships, the Fary and the Hecla, whose names were given to the straits they discovered, were forced to return to England. No ship has ever been through the Fary and Hecla straits and the Bowdoin was built smaller in order to navigate them.

To Prosecute Income-Tax Defaulters

Many Have Not Complied With Law In Making Necessary Returns.

Ottawa.—Extensive prosecutions all over the country are about to be instituted by the taxation branch of the finance department against those who have failed to make returns of income as provided by the Income Tax Act.

While the number making returns this year is very much greater than before, and with much less suspicion of fraud and concealment, there are thousands who have not complied with the act at all, and evidently plan to escape the taxation which applies to all with income in excess of the statutory exemption.

The department, having returns from employers, has a good idea of those who are assessable, and it is not a difficult proposition to check and see if they have made returns. There are others who are not employed by companies or firms, but rather are in business for themselves or living in ease, and it is not hard to get at this class either. The prosecutions for false returns initiated last year have had a salutary effect and have led to a greater accuracy. This year there are comparatively few cases of this sort, but a great number who have ignored the law completely. The penalty is $25 for each day of default.

U. S. Tariff Fight

Oil, Hides, Cotton and Asphalt Remain on Free List.

Washington.—The Republican protective tariff bill, estimated by Chairman Fordney to raise around $400,000,000 in revenue annually was passed by the House by a vote of 289 to 127—precisely the vote by which a Democratic motion for elimination of its United States valuation provisions was defeated.

Seven Republicans voted against the measure, while the same number of Democrats supported it. Oil, hides, cotton and asphalt stood up against a determined fight to tax them, and remained on the free list. The Longworth dye embargo, first of the five contested schedules to go before the House proper for a separate vote, and backed by most of the Republican members of the ways and means committee, was thrown out 209 to 103.

Census Work Nearly Finished

Ottawa.—While the great bulk of Canada's population census has now been taken, no definite figures may be published for another month, and it may be November before the population for the Dominion is officially announced.

In the meantime much has to be done in the way of revision. The census bureau is receiving a large number of reports from individuals who complain of having been overlooked.

Oilfields On Fire

Fire Is Raging in the Amatlan, Mexico.

Mexico City.—The Amatlan oilfields are on fire, with drilling towers falling like chaff and the workmen fleeing, according to reports received here describing "the greatest catastrophe in the history of the world's oilfields." The cause of the fire is not known.

Financial losses cannot be estimated, say the advisers, which add that the conflagration dwarfs into insignificance the Pordiro Del Llano conflagration.

Columns of fire hundreds of feet high are covering the field, it is declared, which is hundreds of acres in extent, and efforts to suppress the blaze are said to be considered hopeless.

More Work In Railway Shops

Increased Hours Of Work Expected Many Workers In Winnipeg.

Shops.

Winnipeg.—An increase from 24 to 36 hours a week affecting nearly 6,000 men employed in car, locomotive and repair shops in Western Canada by the Canadian National Railways was announced here. The new hours go into effect immediately. The reduced hours have been in force during the last six months.

The Canadian Pacific Railway shops are now working a straight five days a week with the expectation that they will go on full time next month.

Good Crop Weather.

Winnipeg.—Splendid filling and ripening weather has prevailed over the three western provinces during the last seven days' crop reporting period, states the weekly crop review, issued by the Grain, Trade News.

While more moisture would have been welcome, some districts suffering rather severely for lack of rain, the weather taken on the whole has been beneficial to most of the crop growing area, the report says.

De Valera Elected Chancellor.

Dublin.—Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, was elected chancellor of the National University of Ireland at a convocation of the governing body of that institution.

World's Grain Stocks Low

Strong Demand For Wheat Supplies the World Over.

Winnipeg.—G. W. Terry, of the London Corn Exchange, and a big grain buyer, stated in an interview with a local newspaper that the stocks of wheat held by the British Government will be all sold out by the middle of next month. "There is so little grain in Great Britain and Europe," he stated, "that you may say there are no stocks held there. Every wheat producing country in the world is below its normal requirements," Mr. Terry asserted.

When he left London, Mr. Terry said Germany was making a big bid to buy all her wheat in the Argentine. Mr. Terry, after drawing a gloomy picture of depleted stocks in every country in Europe, said that these countries must do without grain if the price is not within their means, and those countries which have wheat crops must get along without being able to sell them. "Of course, they always are sold, for the prices are always self-adjusted, as it were," he added. Mr. Terry is touring Canada and the United States on a grain purchasing expedition.

Irish Peace Prospects

Financial Terms May Break New Ground In Negotiations.

Dublin.—Although Mr. de Valera has been unable to accept the terms of the British settlement, there is no immediate apprehension of rupture of the truce. It was recognized from the beginning that Mr. de Valera, as the spokesman of the republican side, could not waive any principle, and the most that was hoped was that he might receive an offer worthy of consideration and debate.

But only a really big offer, it is declared, would justify the assembly of the Dail Eireann, and such disappointment as exists is caused by the rumor that the Dail Eireann may not be summoned.

If it is decided to reject the terms without consulting the "republican parliament" officially, Mr. de Valera is expected to issue immediately a statement to the Irish people. On social authority it has been stated that the financial terms of the British offer broke new ground and apparently are designed to induce Belfast to reconsider its attitude towards a united Ireland.

U. F. A. Victory In Alberta

Final Returns Give Farmers Total of 39 Seats.

Edmonton.—Final returns from Clearwater indicate the election of Dr. Scott, Liberal, by a majority of 85 over O. T. Lee, Independent Liberal, and 100 over Robt. Campbell, Independent.

F. Edm., farmer, was in Victoria by 39 majority over Frank Walker, Liberal.

D. M. Muir, farmer, is elected in Leduc, and W. J. Joly, farmer, in St. Paul.

The standing of the parties is now: U.F.A., 39; Liberals, 14; Independents, 4; Labor, 4.

Tubercular Cattle Destroyed.

When an animal is condemned the Government pays a percentage. The carcasses have been sent to Toronto where they have been killed.

Future Course Of Irish Negotiations Hinges On Two Important Points

Record Temperatures

Warmest Weather In Eastern Canada That Has Ever Been Recorded.

Toronto.—There have been long hot seasons in Ontario and Quebec which have boosted the year's average temperature sky high. There have been short spells of stifling heat but never before since the meteorological service began in 1840 has the maximum daily temperature continued so high for 31 consecutive days. In Toronto, for example, it has not been less than 80 degrees and yesterday it was 82 degrees. Yet the highest temperature, 98 degrees, which was reached on July 5, is considerably below the record for Toronto of 103.2 degrees which was reached on July 3, 1911.

The average temperature for July during the very hot summer of 1916 will probably be found to be higher than that of the present month, but in 1916 the maximum temperature reached 80 degrees only 17 consecutive days.

Oil Wells May Burn For Months

Thousand Laborers Are Fighting the Fire In Mexico.

Mexico City.—A well organized fighting force composed of a thousand laborers, is holding the fire in the Amatlan oilfields to the four wells which have been ablaze for several days. These wells may continue to burn for two months before they are extinguished, according to reports received here. The belief prevails that the flames will be restricted to the 162 centering about Amatlan which contains 16 producing wells.

Arrest Bela Kun.

Copenhagen.—Bela Kun, the former Hungarian Communist leader, was arrested in Lemberg by his arrival there from the Moscow Communist congress, according to a Lemberg despatch to the Berlingske Tidende. The charge against him was that he was carrying plans for a Communist rising in Galicia.

Stopping for a few minutes in the lee of the land we held another council. The wind had increased and white caps were beginning to show on the lake, also the wind which had been fair would now be on our broadside and the boat was light. Then again to weather the point our course must be south in place of east. After some discussion I decided to go on, and we placed a few stones in the bow of the boat for ballast. Then, putting two reefs in the sail, we sailed out close-hauled and found, alas, we made some leeway, there being not enough cargo on board to trim her properly. Still, by shifting the passengers midships and I in the bow, the boat at the stern, old Antoine steering, we thought though close enough, if the wind held steady we could make it. I forgot to mention that we had unslipped the big sweep in the morning and were now breaking by rudder.

Occasionally spray would break over the boat and this seemed to excite our Scotchman who got his arm twisted in the sheet and nearly went overboard. I sat him down rather roughly on the thwart and told him not to stir, but when I went forward, hearing a shout from the boy, he was at the sheet again and within an arm of going over the sides. We lost some ground here as Antoine was watching the miles of our looney, so yelling to keep her up to the wind, I fetched her round, a crack on the bow head with a square tiller, and down he went, quiet enough. This alarmed the little girls and they began to cry, also they were seasick as the wind was getting heavier, at times the boat showing half her keel. We were nearing the end of the point and the surf was breaking over the rocks to some distance out. It was an anxious time for me, and I told Antoine and the boy to take a child apiece if we struck, and I would help the wife and baby, or rather youngest child who was about six, I should think.

The Scot would have to help himself, as he was now sitting in the bottom of the boat looking very stupid. Then stretching along the bows I watched keenly for rocks, a wave of the hand guiding the steersman. For twenty minutes we were in considerable danger and the noise of the surf was deafening. One could have chucked a biscuit on the rocks from the boat, and old Antoine said it was only our light draught saved us. Round the point we went into a beautiful little bay, the shores of which were lined with cedar (the only place they show in the whole course of the river) and landing, the whole party had a good rest and wash, even Scotty behaving more rationally than usual. Round the point we went into a beautiful little bay, the shores of which were lined with cedar (the only place they show in the whole course of the river) and landing, the whole party had a good rest and wash, even Scotty behaving more rationally than usual. Round the point we went into a beautiful little bay, the shores of which were lined with cedar (the only place they show in the whole course of the river) and landing, the whole party had a good rest and wash, even Scotty behaving more rationally than usual.

It was now again fair wind and shaking the reefs out of our sail away we went for Grand Rapids, the wind blowing half a gale behind us. Newer was better time behind us, Cross

Lake, though six miles in width, was crossed in a few minutes. Then on we went, leaving for the head of Grand Rapids itself where the upper post was situated. I could recognize the tall form of my friend and mentor, Alex. Matheson, anxiously pacing the shore and staring at our boat which was coming along at a tremendous speed, favored both by wind and current. He was at that time in charge of all reambush transport until sunset day so we had plenty of time to get to the last mile, then dropped the yard and ran the bow of the old boat a foot into the bank. Poor Matheson was shaking his head and saying, "Ah, Lord B, (his nickname for me), was sure it was a good run, but he would be reckless enough to run those rapids under full sail."

Glad I was to land my party, and I expect the trip would linger long in the memory of Mrs. Missionary and her little girls. Fortunately the Str. Colvins was not expected until next day so we had plenty of time to recover from the effects of our journey.

For the information of modern readers I might state the Grand Rapids are situated at the mouth of the Saskatchewan River where it enters Lake Winnipeg. There is a continuous rapid for over three miles, in which there are three drops over rocky ledges. The rapids can be run easily by experienced hands, and accidents can happen just as easily when the passage is undertaken by novices. The Hudson's Bay Company had two of their best river steamers hauled up these rapids by the help of many men and the bigger engines on the boats. These were the North-West and the Northcoast. The Marquis was the largest boat, but rather too heavy for the river. A steel steamer called the City was tried for the navigation of the South Branch, but proved a failure. She was modelled on the plan of the African and Indian river boats, but did not work out on western rivers.

A steel tramway was laid by the H. B. Co. across the Portage and mule power was used to transport the freight from the lower warehouse to the large establishment at the head of the rapids. This still remains, but I believe is no longer used.

Myself and passengers all went aboard the Colvins next day, and the poor Scotch laddie, after a medical examination, was sent to the asylum for a few months. After seven years in the west I had been granted a point's furlough, and accompanied the valuable cargo of furs as far as St. Paul, these having come in by our steamer. We ascended the Red River by steamer, thence by train to St. Paul. Taking a receipt for the furs I booked by the lake route east, sailing from Duluth and thence by water through the great lakes, down the rapids of the St. Lawrence out in the gulf to Gaspé Basin, where my people were living at that time.

The reward will be made to every resident of Canada as follows:—

Mines will be rewarded by being forced to run full time and others will be called upon to re-open

And the Wage Earners in whatever line of activity they may be will have the opportunity of securing employment, and their wives and children will have plenty to eat and to wear

Mr P. Laird made a dandy job of the new window shades at the Merchants bank, and no doubt the added comfort is appreciated by the staff.

After a two weeks stay with friends in Edmonton Mrs Rufus Carl returned home last week.

We learn that Mr A. Scofield is arranging to take care of his increasing business by the erection of a new business premises on Second avenue next to the post office.

A very large number of town-folk journeyed to Clear lake on Wednesday last to take in the regatta and water sports. There was sure lots of fun for all, and despite the occasional showers everyone was loud in their just praises of the whole affair.

Mrs J. Bates, from Edmonton is a visitor at the home of her parents, M and Mrs H Kemp.

Mr and Mrs W. T. Suckling are now in residence in the Gerow house on Queen street.

Mr and Mrs Walter Murdoch on Wednesday last after the water sports at Clear lake motored to Hardisty, via the park.

Mr and Mrs Springer, who have been holidaying with relatives in N. Dakota arrived home again on yesterday's train.

Miss L. Springer, who has unfortunately been suffering from a bad throat, is now getting along nicely.

Mr O. L. Michon has returned home after spending a visit with old friends at Ledus.

Of course we always think of a society belle as having a tinkling voice.

The reason there is so much indigestion is that so many people swallow everything told them about how to care for their stomachs.
